

Carmen Schipper
Instructor: Polly Manske
SPE 613A: Exceptional Education Etiology
29 October, 2020

Three Links to ADHD Information

The three ADHD informational links I am sharing on my website were chosen for their breadth of information. As someone who has a child with an ADHD diagnosis, as well as having the disability myself, I found these resources to be informational and helpful. CHADD (Children and Adults with Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder) is a great resource for parents and educators, and provides links and information on local support services. The site also has a community support page, and legal information. Teacher Vision was created by teachers, for teachers. The site offers many classroom resources, such as planning ideas, PowerPoints, and worksheets. Teacher Vision is also a great resource for what interventions are effective, and has many links to articles discussing best-practices and effective teaching strategies that help students with ADHD. The final site I would like to share is The Child Mind Institute website. The Child Mind Institute delves into information on behavioral, cognitive and social supports for students with ADHD. The site also celebrates success stories in its information.